

GETS INJUNCTION AGAINST MID-CO.

Aaronson Restrains Oil Company Heads From Retaining Records.

DENIES ACCUSATIONS

Claims He and Son Have the Right to Possession of Records of Company.

In answer to the suit filed against them Thursday by the Mid-Co. Gasoline company, M. M. Travis and others, Alfred E. Z. Aaronson and his son, Alfred E. Aaronson, yesterday began three suits against the Mid-Co. company and Travis in which they obtained a temporary injunction preventing the Travis brothers from retaining possession of the books and records of the company.

Hearing on the temporary order granted by M. C. Rodolf, judge pro tem of county court, is set for September 1.

Aaronson and his son, in the petitions filed yesterday, deny that they have appropriated funds of the company and used the money for advancing their personal interests, and claim that as secretary-treasurer and assistant secretary-treasurer, they have faithfully performed their duties. The petition states that on August 1, 1920, M. M. Travis, president of the Mid-Co. company, and his agents entered the office of the plaintiffs in this suit and without authority seized and removed all books, records and seals of both the Mid-Co. company and the Tulsa Oil company. These books and records are now under guard by agents of Travis, according to Aaronson, and as a result of the refusal of Travis to return the records to them, the plaintiffs in this suit were asked and granted yesterday morning.

In addition to the charges that Travis has unlawfully seized the company records of both oil corporations, Aaronson claims that the special meeting of the directors of the Mid-Co. company called for August 11, is for the purpose of removing these plaintiffs from office in the corporation. Aaronson claims that he and his son were duly elected at a meeting of the board of directors, M. M. Travis, E. M. Travis, Joseph Finson and the plaintiffs, on the second Saturday in February of 1919 and that since that time no meeting of the board has been held and that these plaintiffs are entitled to custody of the books and records of the two companies until such a time as they are lawfully and for cause removed.

Local Fashion Experts Say Abbreviated Hose Must Go

They must go—temporarily at least, or until another yearly evolution in the annals of progressive fashion. It all happened because they came too soon. If the makers had waited another year, they would probably have been "right in line" with fashion's progress. That's the rub—fashion makers too often try to bring about changes before the proper time arrives.

What's it all about? You ask. Why, it concerns hosiery, socks, stockings, or whatever you may wish to call them. Reduced to scientific terms, they are abbreviated stockings for young women—stockings that stop in their upward trend just a few inches below the knee.

Their purpose originally—no the arbiters of fashion said—was to insure coolness to the lower extremities of wearers. Whether that was the reason for their existence, or if they were simply for style, here man is not in a position to state.

held successfully in the tent placed in the Kendall district, in the east part of the city, and at Vern station.

Rev. C. E. Cannady, missionary for the city Baptist church union, has had supervision of the revival series. He will leave on Monday with Mrs. Cannady for a two weeks visit and vacation in the home of their son in Ottawa, Kansas.

Rev. W. A. Todd of the Nogales Avenue Baptist church brought the meeting at Vern station to a close on last Sunday evening with a total of 47 conversions.

W. C. T. U. PLANS MEDAL CONTEST

Is Part of a National Series Held During Month of August.

Registration for the annual national medal contest of the East Side W. C. T. U. will be made at the semi-monthly meeting at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon at 205 South Victor, according to Mrs. Earl Moore, medal contest superintendent for the organization and hostess for the occasion.

The contest will be held within the next three weeks and will consist of reading by each contestant of one of six selections from the novel "Black Rock," by Ralph Connor. Each contestant will be judged on the charm and clearness of her delivery of the selected chapter and the winning contestant will be presented with a medal. The specified chapters from the book were named by the national Women's Christian Temperance Union.

As the period from the middle of August to the middle of September is that designated by the national organization for the holding of medal contests, a contest among young women of the Great Memorial church and one for boys and girls in the district served by the East Side union will be arranged shortly by Mrs. Moore. The contest selections will be miscellaneous and self-chosen.

At the regular meeting next Wednesday the six contest "cuttings" from "Black Rock" will be read by Mrs. A. C. Hancock, president of the city union. Reports of the work of the different departments of the East Side union will also be made by the superintendents, who are as follows: medal contest, Mrs. Moore; child welfare and purity, Mrs. H. E. Wilcox; literature, Mrs. H. H. Porter; evangelistic, Mrs. Ida B. Wygant; mothers' meeting, Mrs. Lena Kinnear; flower mission, Mrs. Gilmore; Sunday school, Mrs. Sharpe; literature, Mrs. Decker; Mrs. Hancock will preside in the absence of the president, Mrs. H. H. Porter.

Within the near future, the city will make plans to acquire a new burial ground to replace Oaklawn cemetery, which has served since the city was in its infancy. This was made apparent at the bi-weekly commission meeting yesterday when it was decided to abandon the plan to use that portion of the Oaklawn tract which lies north of the occupied portion of the cemetery.

Yesterday had been set as the day on which property owners in the vicinity of Oaklawn would be heard, as numerous complaints had been made against the city's proposal to use the unoccupied portion which is approximately 10 feet wide and 1,500 feet long.

The smaller tract is to be sold shortly through the cemetery board and the city commission, and will probably be used as a residence section.
